Reviews currently available data to determine the extent of the Grade 9-12 dropout problem in Nova Scotia. As an actual dropout rate cannot be determined for students leaving the public school system because the province does not have a system for tracking individual students, various proxy measures are used. The measures, which are discussed, are the apparent dropout rate, the senior high pupil withdrawal rate, the retention rate, and the cumulative pupil withdrawal rate. Appendices include descriptions, data sources, and comments relating to the various measures used; a table of school board dropout surveys from Nova Scotia; and statistical tables on apparent dropout rates, student outcomes, college and vocational school enrolments, cumulative pupil withdrawals, students at risk, retention rates by grade and by school board, and pupil withdrawal by grade and age.
