Presents the results of the Schuylkill River Quality Assessment, chosen for study because of heavy use of the river for municipal water supplies and a history of accidental spills and discharges of trace substance in the heavily industrialized reach of the river between Reading and Philadelphia, Pa. 1921-1942 contain abstracts of periodical reports. This report compares, from the economic and technical standpoints, two power reactor types: the British gas-cooled Calder Hall design and the U.S. pressurized-water (Shippingport) design. The basis of comparison was "second generation" designs of 90,000 electrical kilowatts output, incorporating fairly assured technical improvements over the present designs of these types. These advanced designs could be placed in operation in the early 1960's. The present state of geodesy is illustrated by selected examples of instruments and results of geodetic data processing. An extensive reference list supports further studies."--BOOK JACKET.
